

Principal's Newsletter

Dear North High Families:

The busy month of October is almost over. It is hard to believe, but we are midway through the first semester. The North family has been working to continue a sense of normalcy for our community, as our nation and region has experienced extreme weather and social justice issues.

The school year is back in full swing and I must say we have enjoyed a tremendous start to the year. I've been very impressed with our students' focus and look forward to seeing their accomplishments in both coursework and activities as the year progresses. The school calendar has been filled with various programs and activities. North High hosted Homecoming on October 7, which was a tremendous success despite the rainy weather. We had over 650 students for the Homecoming dance that evening.

In addition, parents and guardians filled our commons and main gym during Parent-Teacher Conferences on October 12. We appreciate you for making the time to meet with your student's teachers and for the things you do to help set your students up for success at school and beyond. Whether or not you were able to attend conferences, remember that everyone at North High is here and willing to support you—not only during parent conferences, but any time you have questions or concerns about your student and their learning outcomes and needs. Please contact us if you need assistance.

We look forward to our continued partnership!

Library News

Library Databases:

The library subscribes to a variety of databases specializing in a broad range of disciplines, that give students access to articles and multimedia resources to support their research. Students can access the databases, either by subject or database name, on the library webpage. Students can also access these databases from home using a designated username and password. Click here to view a list of the databases and the usernames and passwords for each. A link to this list is also available on the library webpage, but a student needs to be logged on to his/her Parkway Google account in order to access the link.

Gateway Books 2017-2018:

The Gateway Books is a list of the best in contemporary young adult literature, as selected by a group of librarians and students. To encourage recreational reading, the librarians and English teachers promote these books year-round. Students who read at least three of the books on the list are eligible to vote for their favorite Gateway book. This book will then become the Gateway book of the year. Last year's Gateway award book was The Book of Ivy by Amy Engel. Click here for a list of this year's Gateway finalists and a brief blurb of each.

Winter Sports Registration

Hard to believe, but the start of winter sports is quickly approaching! We no longer accept paper registrations; parents (not students) must register in PRIVIT for the following sports: boys and girls basketball, wrestling, and girls swimming and diving.

See the included document for instructions on using PRIVIT. You can also access this info on the Athletics website at <https://pnorthvikings.com/> For questions, call the Athletic office at 415.7638.

From the Theatre Department

Please join the PNH Theatre Dept. at the production of Play On! This is the hilarious story of a theatre group trying to put on a play in spite of maddening interference from a haughty authoress who keeps revising the script.

Performances run October 25-27 at 7:00 each night. Tickets go on sale October 10 and range from $5-12. There are four ways to purchase tickets:

1. Call the box office at 415.5626 to reserve your tickets. Leave a message with your name & number, the performance you prefer, and the number of tickets needed, and someone will call you back.
2. Students can purchase tickets during lunch beginning October 11.
3. Purchase tickets at the door: the cost is $2 more per ticket.
4. Online ticket purchasing now available! Go to pnhtheatre.booktix.com beginning October 11 to print your tickets from home. Play On! is all general seating. Contact Chad Little at clittle@parkwayschools.net with questions.

Tots Eat Canned Food Drive

The Theatre Dept. will be collecting canned food items October 22-31 to help fill local food pantries for the holidays. This is our annual philanthropy project, where we boost student participation by working to make our community stronger and more compassionate.

Students can drop off canned goods in Mr. Little's room, #501, or give them to their lab teachers.

North High Craft Fair

November 4 & 5

10a-4p

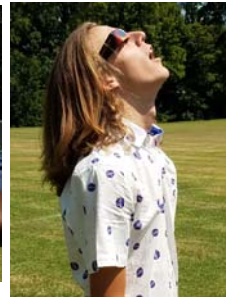

We will showcase over 100 crafters and vendors offering unique and festive homemade gifts. All proceeds benefit the North High band program. See the enclosed flyer for additional details.

North High Happenings

Congrats to the North High girls cross country team for their success at the Parkway Quad. Be sure to congratulate Reina McMillan (10), Safiya Ratliff (11), Madeline Ryan (9) and Lauren Steffen (12) for placing in the top 10 of their respective races!

On August 21, St. Louis experienced a total solar eclipse of the sun. The last time this occurred in the United States was in 1979. Here at North High, all staff and students went outside for great views of this rare phenomena. We would like to extend a big thank you to North parent and alumni Bryan Petrofsky for gifting us with a telescope that allowed science department chair (and eclipse enthusiast) Karen LaFever to live stream the event.

North High junior and playwright Danielle Goldberg (front row, center) wrote a short play entitled "Dessert in the Desert" that was selected as a winner in the high school category at the Neil LaBute New Theatre Festival. Her play was performed by professional actors twice this summer as part of the festival at the St. Louis Actors Studio. Way to go, Danielle!

The artwork of 2017 North grad Lena Sauer has been chosen to represent the St. Louis Artists' Guild on the cover of their latest brochure. A picture of her piece, "Bumble," was taken at a student art exhibition last spring. The coil pot was created while Lena was enrolled in Ceramics I, and has been featured in each of the art shows PNH has participated in over the last year. The St. Louis Artists' Guild recently sent the brochure, along with their contribution letter, to hundreds of area art enthusiasts.

Scholarships

We are starting to receive applications for various national and regional scholarship competitions, which we have listed on the Counseling website. Seniors should also be searching for scholarships online. Sites like fastweb.com, scholarship.com and savingforcollege.com are wonderful resources.

College Visits

Seniors may sign up via their Naviance accounts to meet with college reps visiting North. The list of college visits is available on the landing page for each student's Naviance account. Sign up is required no later than 2:00 the day prior to the event.

Counselor Recommendations

If a college you are applying to requires a counselor recommendation, complete your Recommendation Survey and submit a formal request via Naviance at least 10 school days prior to when you need your letter mailed. Students will be held responsible for being aware of deadlines and requirements for both college and scholarship applications. It's important that students complete their own applications. Parent may assist, but students must take ownership of this process and do their own work.

Seniors

Mrs. Wills wants to meet with EVERY senior before winter break, to discuss your plans for life after Parkway North. Stop by the guidance office to make an appointment!

Juniors

Use your current GPA to help guide your college search. Then begin visiting those schools. Things to question: cost, location, class size, programs offered, and available financial aid.

Sophomores

It's not too early to start investigating your options! Use this year to begin answering basic questions:

- ◆ How far from home do I want to go?
- ◆ What size school do I want to attend?
- ◆ Does my current academic record reflect my goals?

Freshmen

Start your high school career on a good note: When seniors apply to colleges in the fall, the schools only see records from your first three years when evaluating applicants, so make freshman year a good one!

7 Habits of Highly Effective Teens

For Parents:

Freshman leadership labs are learning about The 7 Habits of Highly Effective Teens throughout this year. We are currently introducing Habit 1—Be Proactive. Being proactive means taking responsibility for your life and not blaming outside sources. We used the language "circle of influence" to explain that personal energy should be used for things that are in our control, and not those that we have no control over. The lesson focuses on being proactive instead of reactive.

As teens begin to rely more on their peer group, they can allow a rude comment by a friend to ruin their whole day and are easily led into misbehavior by their peer group. As a parent, it's important to help your teenager understand the importance of taking responsibilities for their life choices. For example, when your child disagrees with a teacher, encourage him to make an appointment with the teacher to discuss it one-on-one instead of doing it for him. Or, the next time your child forgets homework or his sports equipment, think hard before coming to the rescue.

For Teachers:

The information below has been adapted from www.stephencovey.com

Be Proactive is about taking responsibility for your life. You can't keep blaming everything on your parents or grandparents. Proactive people recognize that they are "response-able." They don't blame genetics, circumstances, conditions, or conditioning for their behavior. They know they choose their behavior.

Reactive people, on the other hand, are often affected by their physical environment. They find external sources to blame for their behavior. Between the stimulus and the response is your greatest power--you have the freedom to choose your response. One of the most important things you choose is what you say. Your language is a good indicator of how you see yourself.

A proactive person uses proactive language: I can, I will, I prefer, etc. A reactive person uses reactive language: I can't, I have to, if only. Reactive people believe they are not responsible for what they say and do, that they have no choice.

Instead of reacting to or worrying about conditions over which they have little or no control, proactive people focus their time and energy on things they can control. The problems, challenges, and opportunities we face fall into two areas--Circle of Concern and Circle of Influence.

Proactive people focus their efforts on their Circle of Influence. They work on the things they can do something about: health, children, problems at work. Reactive people focus their efforts in the Circle of Concern--things over which they have little or no control: the national debt, terrorism, weather. Gaining an awareness of the areas in which we expend our energies in is a giant step in becoming proactive.

The best years of your life are the ones in which you decide your problems are your own. You do not blame them on your mother, the ecology, or the president. You realize that you control your own destiny. —Albert Einstein

Junior Counselor Corner

Chandra Brown, Class of 2019

Welcome to your junior year of high school! Your first two years of high school were over quicker than you anticipated, so now is the time you begin taking on more responsibilities in life, as well as academically. Before you know it, you will be picking out class rings, ordering senior jerseys and finalizing your post-secondary goals; this is how quickly your high school career is speeding towards graduation. Take time out to make memories, get involved in your community, and forge healthy relationships. You will be a senior before you know it!

On August 16 you embarked upon one of the final tiers of high school planning!!! Your junior year begins with new, focused goals, a better outlook on your future, and expectations to become the BEST version of you possible. You are considered building leaders for all underclassmen, and we are relying on YOU to set an example through behavior, leadership and positivity.

The mission of Parkway North High School is to develop self-directed, creative, critical thinkers who are socially responsible people prepared for an ever-changing world. Our goal is to ensure that we are supporting families throughout high school, as well as preparing students for responsibilities after high school.

Here is a review of tips for a successful junior year:

- * Try and get at least 6-8 hours of sleep at night and eat breakfast in the morning
- * Rotating block schedule: A-Day is blocks 1-4, and B-Day is blocks 5-8
 - Homework: Most classes at North High have homework assignments, and the A/B day schedule allows you to ask questions the following day, if necessary. (Take advantage of the block schedule and complete homework the day it is assigned!
 - Academic Lab: You have two opportunities during lab to travel to see teachers. Be mindful that lab is not a time for individual support, but rather, more of a group approach. If you need individual support, you will need to arrange a time before or after school. Be mindful that lab is a privilege, not a requirement, and we hope you use it as such. Dr. Page, your academic lab teacher and I will work to make sure this time is being used effectively.
- * Grades and Credits
 - You should be starting your junior year with at least 14 credits. If you have less than this, we will develop a plan to help you meet graduation requirements.
 - You may earn up to 3.5 credits per semester for a total of 7 credits at the end of the school year. By next May, you should have a total of 21 credits, and will only need to earn 10 more to meet graduation requirements.
 - Remember, EVERY grade counts. Each semester your grade point average will be added into your rolling cumulative GPA. The better your grades are, the more opportunities you will have after graduation.
- * Organization
 - Use your planner or electronic device to organize your time and establish routines. Routines help with finishing projects, remaining current in class and content and ensuring you have time for yourself.
 - Plan ahead & schedule time for your after-school activities and homework.
 - Schedule sufficient time to study and complete homework.
 - Don't forget to plan for enough time for rest, family and friends, too.
- * Self- Advocacy
 - YOU are your number one advocate. Use your voice to ask questions, to verify information, clarify understanding.
- * Get Involved
 - Find a club, sport or extra-curricular activity to get involved in. School can be much more than only earning credits towards graduation.
 - Take advantage of the A+ Program, which incorporates district-approved volunteer work, 95% attendance and minimum 2.5 grade point average

The Parkway North High School PTO Viking Pride Fundraiser

The goal of our Viking Pride Fundraiser is to raise money that helps to support our students and staff at North High through a variety of programs. Donations made by you, or any members of your family are tax deductible and may also be eligible for a matching donation through your employer's matching gift program.

How we allocate the money raised:

- Technology grants to teachers. Teachers make requests for hardware, software, and other items that would enhance the classroom learning environment and we try to fulfill as many as possible.
- The PTO Scholarship Fund, which provides scholarships for college bound seniors who have contributed to the North High Community through leadership and volunteerism.
- The PTO General Fund, which includes funding for student recognition and an annual appreciation luncheon for all PNH teachers and staff.

Sounds great! How do I participate?

Just write a check to the "PNH PTO" in an amount of your choice, place it in an envelope, affix postage, and mail it. Or donate online. Go to the PTO website and click on "Donate." (You do not need to have a Paypal account to donate)

Envelopes may be hand delivered to the school principal's office or mailed to:
Parkway North High School, ATTN: Viking Pride Fundraiser, 12860 Fee Fee Rd., St. Louis, MO 63146.
Please do not mail cash. As always your contribution is tax deductible. Contributors of $250 or more will automatically be sent a tax receipt.

For additional information please call Suzanne Watts 314-453-9063

The PNH PTO thanks you for your support!
