“The important thing is not to stop questioning. Curiosity has its own reason for existing. One cannot help but be in awe when he contemplates the mysteries of eternity, of life, of the marvelous structure of reality. It is enough if one tries merely to comprehend a little of this mystery every day. Never lose a holy curiosity.” – Albert Einstein

Essential Questions. How is writing a means of discovery?
How can the human spirit triumph?
What is a hero? Is there a universal definition of a hero?
How is literature used to critique or expose problems in society?
How does an individual fight against an unjust or corrupt society?

Course Description. English Literature is a college preparatory course in which the student surveys the writings from Anglo-Saxon times to the twentieth century. Emphasis is placed on the development of English language, literature, and the historical contexts of the works. Students will develop an appreciation of the values and themes of these works and will express these views in oral and written analyses.

Texts. Beowulf translated by Seamus Heaney
Sir Gawain and the Green Knight translated by Simon Armitage
The Canterbury Tales by Geoffrey Chaucer
a Shakespearean play (A Midsummer Night's Dream, Hamlet or Twelfth Night)
Brave New World by Aldous Huxley potential excerpts from Frankenstein, Animal Farm, Emma, or Paradise Lost short stories and poetry (various authors) various handouts and readings

Materials. Pen, pencil, a binder or notebook to keep track of all notes and readings.

Grading. Grades are based on students' performance on a midterm exam, final exam, quizzes, projects, and essays. The grade is calculated as follows: writing (reflections, papers, essays) are worth 40%; quizzes, participation, and misc. assignments are worth 20%; midterm and final exam are worth 40%. Since this is a college preparatory class, extra credit is rarely given.

Grading Scale.	B+ 87-89	C+ 77-79	D+ 67-69	F 59 or
A 93-100	B 83-86	C 73-76	D 63-66	below
A- 90-92	B- 80-82	C- 70-72	D- 60-62

Essays and MLA. All writing assignments, unless specified otherwise, should be typed using Times New Roman, 12 point font. Modern Language Association (MLA) style and documentation rules are to be followed. Writing submitted in the incorrect format may be returned to the student to be changed, and the paper will be considered late.

Turn-it-in.com. Students will open an account and submit written work to Turnitin.com. This website is designed as a tool to ensure students properly give credit to others' ideas and words.

Academic Integrity. The honest representation of students' work is essential to a productive learning experience. More importantly, academic integrity is a reflection of individual character. Please refer to the PCH English Department "Standard of Academic Honesty" for specifics.

Email & Google Classroom. Parkway students are required to use their Parkway email account to contact teachers. Please keep emails formal and respectful, and remember email is rarely an acceptable substitute for speaking to or conferencing with Mrs. Michael in person. Students should check the Google Classroom daily for updates, announcements, assignments, resources, and the calendar.

Attendance Policy. Each student's presence is vital in order to fully develop skills and explore concepts during class discussion. I expect students to be in their seats and ready to begin class when the bell rings. As stated in the Student Handbook, the first tardy is a warning and the second is a detention. See the Student Handbook for further specifics (6-7).

I understand there are times when extenuating circumstances make it impossible to attend class. During such instances it is your responsibility to gather class notes from other students. It is also your responsibility to visit the website, consult your calendar, or meet with me to find out what you missed. Please check in with me during Academic Lab or after school.

Late Assignment Policy. Students are expected to come prepared at the beginning of class with completed readings. If you miss an exam or assignment handout, you must make arrangements with the instructor to make it up immediately. If you were present when the assignment was given, you are expected to return to school with said assignment completed within one class after your return (only accepted if absence excused). Late homework is not accepted once the unit is over. For essays, late papers will be accepted up to two weeks late with an automatic ten point/letter grade deduction. After that, the paper cannot be turned in for credit.

Restroom Policy. Students are expected to use the restroom during pass time. The restroom pass may be used in emergencies. Please do not interrupt class discussion by asking to go; if the pass is there, please sign out before using the restroom.

Cell Phones/iPods. Technology is an incredible tool that should be utilized and integrated in the classroom. However, cell phones and iPods often distract learners from the interpersonal interactions required to be proficient communicators of both the spoken and written word. These devices should NOT be visible or used once students walk through my door. If the device is seen, Mrs. Michael reserves the right to take it away until the end of the school day. See page 13 in the Student Handbook for additional consequences.

Food. No food or snacks are allowed in the classroom.

The expectations to which I hold my students and myself are encompassed by our PCH Core Values of Respect, Integrity, and Caring. However, to sum it up:

Be respectful

Be responsible

Be ready to learn

Please do not hesitate to contact me with questions or seeking help. I want students in my classroom to be challenged academically but also to feel confident as they face those challenges. I look forward to a thoughtful and enjoyable year ahead!

Please keep the first page of the Course Syllabus for future reference and return this page for Mrs. Michael's records.
