

Name Your Site

The first thing you should do is, name your website

Click in the upper left corner of your new site and enter your name (name your site your research topic)